YOUR ROLE AS A CPA ADVOCATE

Thank you for taking the time to learn more about using your expertise as a trusted business advisor to be an advocate for the CPA profession. As a CPA Advocate, you will represent the profession and the Indiana CPA Society to your state legislators. While the time commitment is minimal, the strength of the relationship you build and maintain may make the difference in the outcome of future legislation affecting the profession and business environment in Indiana.

As a CPA Advocate, you will develop a two-way relationship with your state legislators and serve as a resource to them throughout the year. It is important to develop a relationship before you need to call on a legislator about a specific issue. Take advantage of any opportunity to interact with your legislator.

CPA ADVOCATE TO-DO'S

- ✓ Send a letter or email introducing yourself after an election or at the beginning of a General Session.
- ✓ Subscribe to the legislator's e-newsletter and follow their various social media accounts.
- ✓ Contact your legislators when there is a "call to action" from the Society.
- ✓ Send a note to the legislator at the end of the Indiana General Assembly thanking him/her for their public service and offering to be a resource during the interim.

COMMUNICATING WITH YOUR LEGISLATOR

Effectively communicating your knowledge of and concern with issues to legislators is an essential part of our success at the Statehouse. Whether it is in writing or in person, presentation can be the deciding factor as to whether our correspondence is in the "first response" or the "reply later" file.

DO

- ✓ Use business letterhead.
- ✓ Use correct grammar and punctuation.
- ✓ Mention (if possible) the specific bill in question. When you are writing about a specific piece of legislation, a House bill is identified as H.B. and a Senate bill as S.B.
- ✓ Mention a common thread that you and the legislator share, i.e. children attend the same school.
- ✓ Clearly state the reason for your letter early in your correspondence.
- ✓ Ask your legislator for a reply that states his/her position.
- ✓ Include return address/phone number/email address.
- ✓ Double check the facts you are presenting to ensure they are accurate.
- ✓ Address only one issue per correspondence.
- ✓ Send letter before action is taken.
- ✓ Be prepared to address the "other side's" argument.
- ✓ Let INCPAS staff know about your outreach and any responses from legislators.

DON'T

- ☒ Send a form letter.
- ☒ Use technical terms or acronyms. Legislators are not experts on every issue.
- ☒ Write more than a one-page letter/e-mail.
- ☒ Remind the legislator that you are a taxpayer.
- ☒ Send the same letter to multiple legislators.
- ☒ Apologize for taking the legislator's valuable time.
- ☒ Forget that you may be asking the legislator for favorable votes in the future.
- ☒ Ruin your credibility by guessing if you don't know the answer to a question.
- ☒ Be vague or deceptive.
- ☒ Discuss political contributions EVER.

COE® ONLINE COMMUNITY CPA ADVOCATE GROUP

All CPA Advocates have access to the CPA Advocate group on the CPA Center of Excellence® Online Community. This is a great place for you to get up-to-date information related to your role as a CPA Advocate and the legislative process.

You will find an electronic version of this toolkit, sample letters, updates from INCPAS staff and the Society's lobbyist.

SAMPLE LETTER/EMAIL TEMPLATES

Whenever the Society asks you to reach out to your legislator, we'll include sample templates for you to easily personalize. Refer to the following pages for a few suggested templates for common situations CPA Advocates will come across.

INTRODUCTION LETTER OR EMAIL TO LEGISLATOR

It's important to begin to develop a relationship with your elected officials. The introduction message lets your senator or representative know you and the Indiana CPA Society will be a valuable resource to them throughout the year.

[Insert Date]

The Honorable [Insert Senator's Name]
Address
City, State, Zip Code

Dear [Sen./Rep.] [Insert Last Name]:

On behalf of CPAs throughout your district, I want to thank you for the important work you do and to wish you a successful 2021 session of the Indiana General Assembly.

I am a constituent in your district and am a Certified Public Accountant. As a trusted business advisor, I understand many of the complex issues you will be faced with in this upcoming legislative session. I hope you keep myself and the Indiana CPA Society in mind and reach out to use us as a resource.

In addition to its nearly 7,500 CPA members, the Society has several advisory councils that research and discuss how proposed legislation will impact not only the CPA profession, but also Indiana businesses. CPAs serving on the Advocacy, Government Relations, and Tax Resource Advisory Councils are extremely knowledgeable and look forward to being of assistance when needed.

During your term in office, if the Indiana CPA Society or I can be of any assistance to you, please contact me at [Contact Information]. I look forward to the opportunity to work with you during this legislative session.

Sincerely,

[Your Name]

[Contact Information]

INVITE LETTER OR EMAIL TO LEGISLATOR

When the Society has a specific legislative event, CPA Advocates will receive a sample letter with the event details. When writing to your legislators on the Society's behalf, please forward a copy of your letter to info@incpas.org.

GUIDE TO ATTENDING LEGISLATIVE EVENTS

When attending a virtual or in-person legislative event or fundraiser on behalf of the Indiana CPA Society, there are some practical guidelines to follow to ensure that your time is well utilized. Based upon law, ethics and/or common sense, the following do's and don'ts will help maximize your impact when attending events.

DO

- ✓ Recognize that a fundraiser and a legislative event have very different purposes.
- ✓ If you're participating in a virtual event, treat it like you would an in-person event. Turn your camera on (if that's an option), stay muted if you aren't speaking, stay engaged and ask questions. Also, don't forget to introduce yourself.
- ✓ Keep in mind that a fundraiser is primarily a social function. Take advantage of this more casual setting to get to know your legislator better. If you went to the same school or church, have kids on the same teams, etc.—mention it to help the legislator more easily remember you as a trusted business advisor in the community.
- ✓ A legislative event such as the professional association's annual event is slightly different than a fundraiser. Do your homework before you go. If a legislator or their staff member asks what issues are important to the CPA profession, be prepared to respond in a brief, concise manner (more lengthy discussions are best saved for a separate meeting, unless the legislator wants to continue the discussion). The Indiana CPA Society will provide background information on the legislator and a brief synopsis of issues being advocated by the Society at your request. Remember—if you aren't concerned about an issue, it is unlikely the legislator will be either.
- ✓ Understand all sides of an issue. In order to speak intelligently about an issue, you must be able to counter your opponent's arguments if necessary.
- ✓ Know when it is appropriate to ask for a meeting to discuss an issue at a later date. As an advocate for the CPA profession, the Society may periodically ask you to contact your legislator regarding an issue. Such discussions should take place at his/her office or over the telephone. A fundraiser is not an appropriate place to ask a legislator to take action on an issue.
- ✓ Follow through with any request that a legislator makes in a timely manner. If you are unable to meet the request, let the legislator know why. INCPAS staff can assist you with follow up.
- ✓ Send or email a short "thank you" note after the event. It is a great way to reinforce your relationship and let the legislator know you enjoyed attending the event.
- ✓ Copy the Society on all correspondence. This can help the staff know what issues were discussed as well as what topics are important to the legislator.

DON'T

- ✗ Attempt to threaten or bribe legislators. Promises to vote for or contribute to a legislator's opponent will help ensure he or she will not support the CPA profession on the issue at hand—or any other issue.
- ✗ Use the fundraiser as an opportunity to "lobby" the legislator. Remember it is a social event for the legislator. He or she may not want to talk "shop" outside of the office.

ADDITIONAL INCPAS ADVOCACY VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

INDIANA CPA-PAC

The Indiana CPA-PAC is the only PAC that represents you and the CPA profession in Indiana. The PAC supports the campaigns of state legislators and candidates who support and represent the best interests of the public and CPA profession.

It's important all INCPAS members contribute to the PAC. By supporting the PAC (early each year), you help the profession have a voice in the legislative process.

Interested in serving as an Indiana CPA-PAC Trustee? These dedicated CPAs want to make a difference in the profession. The trustees oversee PAC fundraising and contributions to political campaigns in accordance with the laws of the state of Indiana. Trustees are appointed to three-year terms and participate in three meetings or conference calls a year.

GOVERNMENT RELATIONS ADVISORY COUNCIL (GRAC)

GRAC members serve as regulatory and legislative advisors for the Society. They participate in 3-4 meetings a year and often attend Board of Accountancy and other regulatory agency meetings.

The Government Relations Advisory Council is responsible for considering legislative policies, current position statements and other legislative or regulatory activities as it relates to INCPAS. GRAC develops, monitors and responds to legislation, regulation or rules affecting the CPA profession.

It considers, but is not limited to the AICPA, UAA, NASBA, and Board of Accountancy as sources and considers the following topics: ethics, education requirements, other competing professions or designations, professional standards, professional liability, licensure, peer review, transparency, and matters which regulate fees and compensation or otherwise impose taxes, duties or assessments.

In the fall of each year, GRAC prepares and documents a legislative agenda which prioritizes issues for the GRAC's consideration and action. This agenda is submitted to the Board and may be modified as appropriate and circumstances warrant.

TAX RESOURCE ADVISORY COUNCIL (TRAC)

TRAC members serve as advisors to legislators, their staff and regulatory agencies related to tax.

The Tax Resource Advisory Council is responsible for considering legislative policies, current position statements and other legislative or regulatory activities as it relates to tax issues. TRAC furthers the development of fair and reasonable systems of taxation. TRAC develops, monitors and responds to legislation, regulation, or rules affecting the tax practice in the CPA profession.

It considers the AICPA, IRS, DOR and other taxing authorities as sources and shall further consider but not be limited to the following topics: ethics, education, professional standards, professional liability, licensure, state and local taxes, compliance and enrolled agents. TRAC serves as a resource to legislative bodies including the Ways and Means Committee and other tax related entities. Additionally, TRAC annually meets with DOR and IRS.

In the fall of each year, TRAC prepares and documents an annual legislative agenda which prioritizes issues for TRAC's consideration and action. This agenda is coordinated with GRAC and submitted to the Board and may be modified as appropriate and circumstances warrant.

POLICY STATEMENTS

INCPAS POLICY STATEMENTS

Developed by the INCPAS Advocacy Council May 22, 2019

Business Ethics

Envisioned as the home of the most trusted professionals. Locally...Globally, the Indiana CPA Society encourages and supports high standards for business behavior based on ethical values and for CPAs to adhere to the Professional Code of Conduct.

Fiscal Responsibility: Government (Includes state, local and public schools)

We advocate that elected leaders and government officials responsibly balance resources that support, protect and advance the best interests of the citizens of Indiana.

Fiscal Responsibility: Personal

The Society and its members regard personal fiscal responsibility as a vital skill for all Hoosiers.

Government Transparency

The Indiana CPA Society encourages and supports the transparency of governmental processes and financial reporting by all state and local governmental entities and all public schools within the State of Indiana.

Professional Issues and Licensing

INCPAS respects the public interest and is the leading advocate for the profession and members related to professional licensing issues, regulatory compliance, ethics and professional issues.

State and Local Tax Policy

INCPAS advocates for state tax policy delivered by the state in a sound and transparent manner that creates a favorable tax environment for individuals and business.

ADDITIONAL SUPPORT AND QUESTIONS

The Society will do everything it can to assist in your role as a CPA Advocate. If you need help reaching out to a legislator, or a legislator contacts you with questions, do not hesitate to contact INCPAS.

ADDITIONAL RESOURCES

THE STATE LEGISLATIVE PROCESS

The state representatives and senators who serve as our voice in the legislative process are the cornerstone of government. They are the source of many laws, regulations and policies that affect you and your profession.

Hundreds of bills are introduced each session, but few are ever enacted into law. The deliberative process that determines whether proposals become law is often long and complex, taking months or even years. Conflicts of power, bargaining and compromise are inevitably involved in making or changing public policy.

Even in all its complexity, concerned citizens can still impact legislation. This section explains the legislative process and demonstrates how and where you can make a difference.

Your Role in the Process

Legislators must comprehend hundreds of different issues, and then determine how to vote and how to best represent their constituents' views. (Imagine you were required to be an expert on every facet of your organization or your clients' professions, as well as your own.) Clearly, your legislator's job can be complex, and he or she can benefit from your advice as a trusted business advisor.

Legislators receive information on new proposals from many sources — media, trade and professional associations, public interest groups, law firms, labor unions and businesses — which often serve as the dominant information and lobbying source for legislators. Lawmakers are seldom approached by groups representing a broad cross-section of interests from their home district. It's important to leverage your business acumen. Offer thoughtful, constructive and balanced options while the legislation is still in the formative stage at the subcommittee or committee level. Such an approach is welcome by lawmakers and can effectively influence legislation.

As a CPA Advocate, you can help colleagues in your business or in the CPA profession develop a constructive and positive approach to issues. If you then communicate your views to your lawmakers, they will be able to better represent those views as the legislation is being developed.

Utilize the Society's resources to leverage your relationship with your legislators. There are sample letters of introduction, suggestions for ways to maintain your relationship and talking points on issues for which the Society has a position. Staff, the Society's lobbyist and your fellow members working in the advocacy arena have expertise of which you should take full advantage.

State Power Centers

As you become involved in the legislative process, it is important to remember—in addition to constituent input—there are other powerful forces at work when legislation is considered. The process also may be heavily influenced by two major power structures within the state legislature—political party leadership and committee leadership.

Party leadership is the most long-standing power center within state and federal legislatures. The Indiana House and Senate are each controlled by the party dominated by the majority of the chamber's members. The members of the major political parties in each chamber elect their own officers. Also, the total proportion in each house determines the proportion of majority members to minority members on each committee.

Both the House and the Senate elect Majority and Minority Leaders who coordinate the conduct of business in the two chambers and manage legislation on the floor. They are elected by their political party's caucus principally for their party standing, and legislative leadership ability. These leaders develop strategy on how a piece of legislation will be moved through the various checkpoints in the legislature and onto the Governor's desk.

The Speaker of the House is the presiding officer of that chamber and is the leader of the majority party. The speaker is that party's chief strategist and devotes a great deal of time to promoting the legislative policies of that party. The Speaker also exerts considerable influence over assignments of individuals to committees, and influences the fate of legislation by deciding when it will be debated.

The Majority Leader of the Senate is known as Senate Pro-Tempore. Like the Speaker of the House, the Pro-Tempore acts as the principal legislative strategist for the majority party and influences decisions regarding committee assignments. The Pro-Tempore and the Speaker of the House are arguably the most powerful individuals within the Indiana legislature.

Committee leadership is the next layer in the power structure and includes the standing committee chairs. Committee chairs derive their power from control over bills referred to their committees, and may determine whether or not bills will be considered. Committee chairs can delay, block or expedite action on measures with few restrictions. The chairs also select subcommittee chairs under their jurisdiction, or choose to serve as subcommittee chairs themselves.

Increasingly, ad hoc groups or caucuses, composed of lawmakers who share common viewpoints, are an informal power structure that has developed within the legislative decision-making process. Such groups serve as information and control centers on issues and can become powerful blocks on bills they deem important.

Given this system, it may seem party leaders and committee chairs have more influence over the course of legislation than the constituents back home do. That is not the case. Politically active and involved constituents are still a lawmaker's priority, and can have a tremendous impact on the system when they organize and lobby on an issue. That's why the power of the seniority system and centralized political parties has diminished, and grassroots lobbying is flourishing.

HOW A BILL BECOMES A STATE LAW

The following is a brief description of the state legislative process and the key points where grassroots action has the greatest impact.

I. Introducing a Bill

When a bill is being prepared to be introduced into either the House or the Senate, a member of that body must sponsor it. Often, the member will send a “Dear Colleague” memo to all other chamber members to seek additional co-sponsors. A bill may be introduced in either chamber or both simultaneously. Under the Constitution, budget bills must originate in the House of Representatives; otherwise, there are no restrictions as to where the measure originates.

There are many different types of bills, and each has a title and number. A bill originating in the House is designated by “H.B.” followed by a number. A Senate Bill is designated by “S.B.” followed by its number.

Bills designated “H.J.R.” or “S.J.R.” are joint resolutions. While in practice, there is little difference between the content of a bill and a joint resolution—the latter is commonly used to extend the life of an existing law.

Bills designated “H.C.R.” or “S.C.R.” are concurrent resolutions that must be approved by both chambers. Bills designated “H.C.R.” or “S.C.R.” are simple resolutions concerning the operation of either chamber alone. They are used mainly to create special investigating committees, change rules, or express the will of the chamber on a particular matter.

Sources of legislative proposals are unlimited and diverse. Sources include:

- Members of the Indiana General Assembly
- Individual constituents or constituent groups
- Coalition groups and lobbyists representing constituent groups
- Legislative committees

Knowing the source of proposed legislation can reveal a great deal about it, including the chance of passage. Many bills never get beyond this first step.

II. Committee Assignment

Upon introduction of a bill, the Speaker of the House or the Pro Tempore of the Senate refers it to the committee having proper jurisdiction. Each committee has jurisdiction over issues in several areas. Most committees also have some subcommittees.

III. Committee Action

Committees are perhaps the most important phase of the legislative process. They carry out the central functions of the Indiana General Assembly, including:

- Processing bills that have been introduced.
- Investigating the need for new legislation.
- Overseeing the Executive Branch—within their own particular areas of jurisdictional interest.
- Each committee also is required to oversee the administration of laws that the General Assembly enacts in the area over which it has legislative jurisdiction.
- To relieve the heavy workload of committees, subcommittees have been formed for some standing committees—especially in the House.

Committees and subcommittees are considered the “working level” of the General Assembly, where the decisions are made about the content and language of a bill, and the actual details of legislation are hammered out. It is at the subcommittee and committee level that laws are formulated and should be balanced with public comment. Once a bill has reached the House or Senate floor for a vote, it is more difficult for it to be reshaped or defeated, because the majority of members will defer to the “experts” on the committee that studied and reported the bill. Clearly, public comment to adjust a law's content must occur well before the bill reaches the floor. Committee action generally falls into one of two categories:

Hearings

Members of the legislature, public officials and professional people, private citizens, experts and other interested groups are invited to offer their opinions on a particular issue being considered by the committee. The purpose of a hearing can be to:

- Determine the possible impact of proposed legislation.
- Seek and obtain information.
- Test public opinion.
- Build support for proposals.
- Delay action on a bill.
- Provide a forum for parties to be heard.

Reporting Bills

The full committee may report the bill out as it was introduced with amendments, or as a "clean" bill. If a committee fails to report a bill, the measure is dead—with few exceptions it cannot proceed to full House or Senate consideration. This is the stage where most bills die, as few are ever reported from committees.

IV. Scheduling

If a bill receives a favorable recommendation from a committee, it must be scheduled for a floor vote. In Indiana, the decision to schedule a floor vote is made by the legislative leadership, although some other states have a separate committee for this function.

V. Floor Vote

At this stage, members decide the fate of the bill. This is a critical time when all members should be informed of the Indiana CPA Society's position on the bill. The Indiana General Assembly allows debate and amendments at this time, and grassroots communications can be critical.

VI. Second Chamber Action

If the bill passes, it is sent to the second chamber where the same basic procedure is followed. If the second chamber amends the bill, the original chamber must concur with the amendments. If concurrence is not reached, the second chamber may either withdraw its amendments or request a conference committee. If the bill passes in the same form it passed the original chamber, it is sent to the Governor for his signature.

VII. Conference Committee

A conference committee is appointed when the two chambers pass different versions of the same bill. Committee members include both Majority and Minority members from each chamber, and it is their job to resolve differences in the two bills. Grassroots lobbying may be useful here in trying to revise problems in the bill. All conference committee members should be contacted while they are working on a compromise.

VIII. Conference Report

If they are able to resolve differences in the bills, the conference committee issues a conference report which is signed by a majority of the delegation from each chamber. Both chambers must then approve the report. The chamber where the bill first originated votes first. If the conference committee reaches no agreement, the bill is usually dead. If the bill passes both chambers, it is sent to the Governor for his signature.

IX. Action by the Governor

After a bill is received by the Governor's office, he has a limited time period to act on the legislation. The Governor can sign the bill into law, allow it to become law by not signing it, or veto it and return it to the legislature along with an explanation of the veto. The legislature can then override the veto with a two-thirds majority vote.

2021 LEGISLATIVE AGENDA

LEAD

We either work to have legislation introduced or we work with others (legislators, agencies, coalitions/partners) to have it introduced, and we actively support their efforts.

- ★ Oppose licensure legislation that is not in the public interest and would be detrimental to CPAs' ability to provide professional services to the organizations and clients whom they represent.
- ★ Ensure CPA Exam rule promulgation deadline is extended due to delays resulting from the COVID-19 pandemic (allows continuous Exam, removes Exam section names and allows candidates to sit for the CPA Exam with 120 credits).

ENGAGE

We adhere to our advocacy policies in determining the level of our engagement and may support, oppose or remain neutral on a bill or issue. We may provide members' expertise in the form of testimony or in meeting with influencers.

- ★ Support Multistate Tax Commission model bill for reporting federal partnership audit adjustments provided it is not detrimental to Indiana taxpayers.
- ★ Support legislation providing pandemic-related business liability protections that are reasonable for businesses that followed applicable CDC guidelines and/or guidance from local, state, federal governments and industry best practices or standards.

MONITOR

We are watchful of legislation and issues, assessing risk of escalating our involvement and determining if/when we should take action or weigh in based on our advocacy policies.

- ★ Support legislation that allows automatic changes for statutes and rules such as essential services status, tax due dates and licensure requirements during a public health emergency or natural disaster declared by state or federal order.
- ★ Marijuana bills: Support inserting model language into any legalization bill to protect CPAs providing professional services for clients in the marijuana industry legally operating according to state law.

The COVID-19 pandemic and social injustice will have considerable influence on the elections and the work of the General Assembly. There are many unknowns, but the Society's leadership, staff and lobbyist will be at the forefront advocating on behalf of our members and the CPA profession.

Your Small Steps for Advocacy are Big Steps for the Profession

Can We Count on You to be a CPA Advocate?

Advocacy is necessary to promote your designation, the profession, your clients, employers and the public interest. You don't need to be an expert to be an advocate—becoming a CPA Advocate is as simple as:

- Telling us who your elected officials are. It's helpful for our staff to know who represents your interests.
- Using INCPAS as your resource. We provide all the information you need to better understand current legislative issues.
- Making contact. A simple introductory email or phone call to your legislator helps let them know you (and the Indiana CPA Society) are a resource.
- Putting in your two cents. Sometimes we need member input on an issue before we take a position on it.

Don't worry—by being a CPA Advocate for the profession, you won't be asked to testify at the State House, draft potential legislation or constantly advise legislators about the impact of their decisions. But, as a CPA Advocate, you will strengthen and increase the voice of your profession in Indiana.

So, can we count on you? YES

LEGISLATIVE AND REGULATORY HISTORY OF THE CPA PROFESSION IN INDIANA

Year	Description
1915	First law creating the designation of CPA and State Board The Indiana General Assembly passed legislation that enabled granting certificates for the professional designation of Certified Public Accountant. Indiana's first CPA law created a State Board of Certified Public Accountants and established criteria for the issuance of CPA certificates.
1925	Indiana SEC Legislation passed which established the Indiana Securities Commission.
1928	Indiana Corporations Law IACPA (Indiana Association of Certified Public Accountants—former name of Indiana CPA Society) played a role in the passage of the Indiana Corporations Law.
1933	Bank Audits Legislation passed which authorized the state banking department to accept bank examinations made by CPAs instead of those made by state bank examiners. Utility Company Audits IACPA supported legislation that would have permitted local government to allow CPAs to audit the books of utility companies. This bill died in committee. SEC Company Audits IACPA also supported legislation that would have authorized CPAs to audit the records of companies involved in the distribution of securities in Indiana. This bill passed both houses, but was not signed by the Governor.
1941	Board of Accountancy Legislation was introduced which would require members of the State Board of Certified Public Accountants to be members in good standing of IACPA. It also separated the State Board of Certified Public Accountants from the State Board of Accounts. The bill passed both houses, but was vetoed by the Governor. IACPA went to work encouraging members of the legislature to override the veto. This action succeeded just before the legislature adjourned.
1946	Experience Requirement State Board of Accountancy promulgated rules that required successful Exam candidates to have sufficient experience in a public accounting firm before they would be issued a CPA certificate.
1947	Unauthorized Practice of Law HB 2657 concerned the qualifications of those who represent clients before federal regulatory bodies. The IACPA opposed the bill. (BD 5/24/47)
1949	Public Accountants Public accountants introduced a bill which would give them recognition similar to CPAs. With much work, the CPAs were able to get the bill defeated.
1959	Audits HB 424 and SB 408 both revised the credit union laws. They would allow audits of credit unions to be done by certified public accountants (revised to say "qualified public accountants"). Both bills failed.

1966	Interstate Mobility INCPAS Board and Legislative committee considered legislation related to interstate practice and privileged information.
1969	Accountancy Act of 1969 Indiana Accountancy Act of 1969 was enacted and ushered in an era of regulated public accounting to the state. The legislation established the Board of Public Accountancy as the regulatory body for the practice of public accounting. The board consisted of five members—three CPAs and two PAs. The law established the education and experience requirements for the designation of CPA (high school graduate and 3 years public accounting experience; 1972–baccalaureate degree from accredited college and 3 years public accounting experience). The law also established the criteria for the practice levels of public accounting according to the designations of CPA, PA and AP (Accounting Practitioner). With the passage of this act, Indiana became the 41st state to enact regulatory accounting legislation.
1974	SEA 6 Incorporations Act Permits CPAs, PAs and APs to practice in Indiana in the corporate form.
1979	Mandatory CPE House Bill 1236 was enacted which required mandatory CPE. The legislation required CPAs to acquire continuing education to obtain a renewal of their permits. Ultimately, the rules provided that a CPA must obtain 60 hours of CPE between July 1, 1980 and December 31, 1981 with 20% of those hours involving auditing and/or accounting. After that initial period, it went to 40 hours of CPE every 12 months and 10% in A&A. Members credited with helping this legislation get passed are Al Hinton, George Ludwig, Bill Rea, Paul Marshall and Charles Rutherford.
1985	CPA Exam Legislation allows students to sit for the Exam 60 days prior to receiving their baccalaureate degree.
1985	Board of Accountancy Composition changed to 4 CPAs; 1 PA and 1 public member (was 3 CPAs and 2 PAs).
